FIRE VISITS BLAINE!

The Home of the Secretary of State at Washington is Damaged by the Fire Fiend.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Secretary Blaine's residence on Dupont circle, now occupied by Mr. Lieter, the Chicago millionaire, took fire shortly before 12 o'clock to day and a general alarm was sounded. The fire department at once responded and the flames were soon extinguished. The fire was confined to the top floor and the damage was not great.

Great excitement was created during the reception at the white house, by the report that the secrefary's residence was on fire, and the president sent a special messenger to confirm the report. A general alarm was sounded. The fire originated in the third story of the house and made its way to the various cupalos. This rendered the task of extinguishing the fire very difficult. The principal loss was by water and smoke. The loss on the building will not be large, but the damage to furniture and carpets may amount to several thousand dollars.

OTHER FIRES.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 1.—The old Wilkinson and Green mill was gutted by fire last night. Loss, $125,000; fully insured. The mill has lately been run by the Dexter Yarn company.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 1.—Fire started in Bauchemen & Allien's five-story block, on Gabriel street, last night. The damage is $100,000, and the insurance $80,000. The proprietors were wholesale book sellers and stationers.

ATTEMPTED INSURRECTION.

The Bold Plans of Revolutionists Foiled at Lima, in Peru.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Advices from Peru, received yesterday, give the details of the revolution which occurred in Lima on December 3. Pierola, the Boulager of Peru, has been quietly at work for some time among the lower classes endeavoring to create a revolution which would place him in the position of dictator. On the afternoon, December 3, several of Pierola's chosen followers obtained admission to Fort Santa Catlienia with about eighty of their men. A pre-arranged signal was given and the insurrectionists suddenly took possession of the fort. The government troops were called out and for two hours a fierce fight was waged, which ended in the defeat of the revolutionists.

The Peruvian consul said yesterday that there was no fear of a further outbreak. On the day following the affair, he said the people flocked to the palace and assured President Bermudez of their loyalty to the government. The correspondents of W. E. Grace make light of the trouble and say that there is no further danger of a revolution. Had the followers of Pierola succeeded it would thoroughly have upset Peruvian affairs, both political and commercial. Seventy-five of the insurrectionists were killed in the fight at the fort.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Treat Senator Pettigrew's Brother, Whose Death Occurs in Dakota.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan 1.—Justin A. Pettigrew, brother of Senator Pettigrew, died at 10 o'clock last night. He was forty-five years of age and leaves a wife and daughter. He had been ill since Thanksgiving and his wife, being an ardent believer in Christian science, persuaded him to accept that treatment. Last week relatives living in the city telegraphed Senator Pettigrew in Washington to come home at once. As soon as the senator arrived, he cleared his brother's house of theorists and called in several regular physicians, who declared yesterday that it was too late. The Christian scientists, on the other hand, assert that had their treatment of the patient been left alone he would not have died. There is considerable feeling the city over the circumstance.

RIOT IN ALABAMA.

Several People Killed at Catharine Station.

UNIONTOWN, Ala., Jan. 1.—There was a riot at Catharine Station, on the Mobile and Birmingham railroad Tuesday night, and it is reported that several people have been killed. The difficulty arose out of a fight, and their friends took up the contest. The colored postmaster at the place was ordered to leave town, which he did. The excitement continued unabated, and application has been made by the sheriff to Governor Jones to have troops sent to quell the disturbance.

EXCESSIVE DRINKING

Causes a Man to Kill His Wife---Another Sad Case.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Crazed by apparently unfounded jealousy and excessive drinking, Leo Klien, a German thirty-four years old, fatally shot his wife and then killed himself, shortly after 5 o'clock last evening, at his home, No. 536 Sedgwick street.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Charles H. Butterfield, who cut his throat with a pen knife in a cell at the Harrison street police station Tuesday night, died at the county hospital yesterday. He was an old and well known telegraph operator, but whisky ruined him.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 1.—M. B. Lapping late this afternoon shot Victor Heath and W. E. Emerick, employes in Adamson's chattel mortgage office. Adamson, the proprietor, is now serving a term in Stillwater. The firm foreclosed on some property of Lapping, and yesterday he walked into the office with a big revolver and began shooting. Both Heath and Emerick were wounded, but not fatally. Lapping has been captured.

THE INDIAN WAR.

The End is Not Yet--A Bloody War Looked For.

HURON, S. D., Jan. 1.—Hump and Iron Thunder, two noted Sioux chiefs, arrived here yesterday in charge of Captain Ewers, of the Fifth infantry. They were going to Rapid City to meet General Miles. In speaking of Two Strike's death, Hump said: "Two Strke very bad. All his band bad Indians. No good. Big Foot ought to die long ago. Never loved him. He make great trouble. Hope he sure dead." Hump and Big Foot were sworn enemies, and each was watching to get a chance to kill the other.

RUSHVILLE, Neb. Jan. 1.—Some few Cheyennes and scouts, Red Cloud and all the lesser chiefs, except American Horse, have joined their brethren for the last great fight. The storm still rages and gives every advantage to the Indians, either for fighting or, escaping to some safe retreat. The end is not yet.

SAN ALTONIA, Tex., Jan. 1.—Brigadier-General Stanley, who spent eight years among the Sioux, thinks a war will follow the fight at Wounded Knee, as it only required bloodshed to arouse the Indians. He was in the City of Mexico when Sitting Bull was killed, and returned immediately, as he believed that trouble would ensue. Speaking of the Indians, he said that if once they smelt blood they could not be restrained. An Indian will enlist as a scout to fight other Indians, and be ready, after his term of service expires, to fight the scouts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—An army officer tells your correspondent that General Miles, some days ago, urgently recommended to the secretary of war the dismissal of the Indian agents at the Pine Ridge, Rosebud, Lower Brule, Standing Rock and Crow Creek agencies, in South Dakota, and the assignment in their places of five well known army officers.

He did this, not as a reflection upon the agents, but, he said, because he believed a crisis existed among the Indians in that region which would require the attention of the army, and he thought it would be wisdom to have such officers at those posts, and in charge of the Indians, as would have authority and experience necessary to make prompt military moves.

It is stated that the recommendation received the indorsement of General Schofield and Secretary Proctor, and was sent to Secretary Noble for his indorsement, preparatory to being laid before the president. The secretary of the interior, the report states, took some time to consider the matter, then refused to indorse it, and laid it before the cabinet at the last meeting, with the intimation that such a proposal should not come from the war department, as it was an interference with the business of another department. The president, it is stated, came to the conclusion that the interior department was able to handle the Indian question for the preset, at least, and there it was dropped.

Had it succeeded it is likely that it would have led to the ultimate transfer of all the Indians to the war department, a move which has been agitated for some time, and is very popular in congress.

ALL PERISHED.

A Burning Building Falls in On Seven Children.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 1.—Sunday night Scott Thompson, colored, who lives near Bayboro, in company with his wife went to church leaving seven children, five of his own and two grand children, at home, their ages ranging from infancy to about fifteen years. Before the services ended Thompson's house was found to be on fire and the congregation made a rush for it. Before the children could be rescued the building fell in and every one of the children perished in the flames.

STORY OF A WIFE.

James J. Brown Alleged to Have Deserted His Wife at Toledo--His Emphatic Denial.

James J. Brown, a traveling man for a Cincinnati house, with headquarters in this city, has retained Gen. John C. Lee, of Toledo, to commence a suit for libel against the Toledo Blade for $10,000. He bases his claim on a sensational article which appeared in last Tuesday's edition of that paper. The story, an interesting one, in which Mr. Brown and a Fort Wayne woman are principals, is told as follows by the Blade:

A pretty, dark-blue eyed young woman came into the infirmary office this morning. She timidly stated that she would like to get back to her home in Fort Wayne, Ind. Director Kirkby and Baumbach questioned her a little and sent her to Mrs. Brooks, of the Humane office. The latter soon learned a touching story of abuse and desertion, and the young woman gave such excellent references that she was given an order for a ticket from Toledo to Fort Wayne over the Wabash. She will leave at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

She stated to Mrs. Brooks, that her name was Luella Brown, and that she had been living in the upper part of John F. Kampf's house, at 532 Erie street, and that after selling off nearly everything she had, her husband had left her destitute and alone.

A reporter for the Blade called at Mr. Kampf's. He is a cabinetmaker at Conant's furniture store. Mrs. Brown came down stairs at Mrs. Kampf's request. She is a medium-sized, fair-faced young lady, and gave her age as twenty-one. She has very dark eye brows and dark hair, extremely bright, blue eyes and nicely formed features. She would be considered anywhere as a very handsome woman. To the reporter she told the following story:

"I was born twenty-one years ago, in Ohio, and when very young we moved to Fort Wayne, Indiana. My name used to be Madden, and I suppose we are relatives of the Maddens who live at North Baltimore, in Wood county. They are well known and wealthy residents of that town. My father has been a patrolman in Fort Wayne for seventeen years, and although a good man in most respects, he was very cruel to us children. I have five brothers, and my mother, who is still alive, is one of the best women who ever lived. But father was so unkind that when I was ten years old I was adopted into the family of a neighbor. They treated me very kindly.

"But I was only fourteen years old when a German young man named Upmeyer made my acquaintance. I thought I loved him and we were married. He treated me very kindly for a time, but one day when I was sick with typhoid fever he ran away with our hired girl, and I have not seen or heard of him but once since. Meantime our baby was born, and he never saw it until it was dead. It lived a few months and when it died he came home just as they were putting it into its coffin. He helped to tie the white crepe on the door and then went away. That is the last I have seen of him.

"After the funeral, and I had recovered from the shock, I went into old Mr. Bond's family as a companion to the old people. They were one of the wealthiest and most prominent families there, and I had a very good home. I was out to a party one evening when I met James J. Brown, who said he was a traveling salesman for Boory & Co., liquor dealers of Cincinnati. He took a fancy to me and we went together quite a while. I was just arranging to go with the Bonds on a trip to Mexico when Brown asked me to marry him. He was highly thought of in Fort Wayne, and every one thought me very lucky. They think he is very nice yet, for that matter. I told him I was already tied up to one man.

" 'Never mind that. I'll fix that for you if you will marry me,' said he.

"So he made application for a divorce for me and paid for it. I had no trouble getting it, for every one knew me there and my misfortune. We got the divorce one day and were married the next.

"Well, Jim had to go off on the road, and only got home once in awhile. I thought he was the best man there was alive, and used to await his coming with such hope and happiness as only a true wife can know. About a year ago our little boy was born, and we loved him so much. His mother came up from Newark, New Jersey, and then I commenced to know more about my husband than I ever thought could be possible. I loved him so much I never stopped to think what he might have been. His mother told me he was heir to an estate in Newark which would bring him $15,000, and that the relative from whom it was coming was almost dead. I told her all my history, and when I told her I had been divorced, she said:

" 'That's odd, James had a wife, too, before he married you.'

" 'He did?' said I. 'Why, he never told me anything about it.'

"Then she went on to tell me that he had married one of the grandest ladies in Newark, and that after they had lived together about a year his wife had eloped with the chief of police of Newark. It caused a great sensation at the time, and the papers were full of it. I was greatly surprised that he had never said anything about it, but I thought he was afraid of hurting my feelings. I don't know if he was ever divorced from her or not. His people are among the most prominent in Newark, and they are all nice folks but my husband.

"Well, our little boy died about four months ago. I had two or three sicknesses, in which I nearly died, and the baby did too. My husband was away all the time, and finally I said he would have to give up the road or give up me, so we came to Toledo three months ago, and rented the upstairs to this house. My husband got furniture and carpets of Draper & Nugent, giving them a chattel mortgage on them. He got a position at the Central chandelier company, where he earned $1.75 a day. But he didn't spend it on me, I can tell you. I don't know what he did. He was away nights and came home at all hours.

"About three weeks ago he came home and said his uncle had died in Newark, and that he must go to Cincinnati at once to see about his $15,000. I thought it was all right at first, and then I mistrusted something. I found out that his uncle was not dead, and he did not go to Cincinnati. Since then he has been very abusive to me. My brothers sent me $18 a short time ago, and he got that away from me. He has been in the militia service and draws a pension. I am told he has signed away this pension several times to raise money, which is against the law.

"A day or two ago he said he was going back on the road for Boory's and started to pack up. He took all the little pictures from the walls, which I had bought with my own money. I am sure that he pawned them. He also took up the carpet, which he got of Draper & Nugent, and carried that away. Last Sunday he came home and there was no wood or coal. He never gave me any money for anything. So he went down stairs and smashed a banister to pieces for fire while he was home. He has been home only once or twice since. The last time was this morning, and he said when he left that he was sick of me, anyway, and would never come back again. I suppose he has left the city.

"Yesterday he tried to get some money from Mrs. Kampf, but he didn't succeed."

"Yes,' spoke up Mrs. Kampf. "He showed two checks on the First National bank, one for $200 and one for $250. I would have given him money on them, but I didn't have it on hand. Saturday he tried to get a lot of goods from Manton's store, on the strength of a $800 note he claimed was all right. The checks were from Boory & Co., of Cincinnati. He didn't say how a Cincinnati business house came to be doing their business in Toledo. I can say that what Mrs. Brown has said is absolutely true and it isn't a hundredth part of what he has done to her, so far as their living in my house is concerned. She has been a true, devoted wife right along, and has stood more than I ever would. He hasn't let her clothing even, and almost everything is gone from their room. She has a spinal disease, and is almost paralyzed on one side."

Mrs. Kampf has supplied her with clothing, as far as possible, and done all she can to help the unfortunate girl.

At the Central Chandelier works it was learned that Brown had quit work December 6 and gone to Detroit. Brown was supposed to have been in Detroit ever since, but his wife says he has been there several times. She broke into fits of weeping every few minutes in telling her story, and says she is going home to her mother at Fort Wayne and stay there, but would like revenge on her husband in some way.

The chattel mortgage referred to is found in the probate office to have been given by James J. Brown to Draper & Nugent, November 21, 1890, and is for $69.70. As to the validity of the checks offered for payment to Mrs. Kampf, nothing is known, but developments are expected. Mrs Brown will be at her old home before midnight, and the curtain will doubtless drop on the todching drama, so far as Toledo is concerned.

BROWN INTERVIEWED.

J. J. Brown, who is thrust into such unpleasant notoriety, is in the city. He was seen at the Grand Central hotel by a SENTINEL reporter and was quite willing to talk. He denied in toto the article in the Blade and said that he had already begun a suit for libel against that paper. "The story, I think," said he, "is the evil doing of the Mrs. Kampf mentioned. The woman Luella Upmeyer is not my wife, but we are to be married. She is at present in this city—and will deny the story the same as I do. I am still working for the house of Boory & Co., and expect to remain with them. Some of the assertions made in the Blade's article are so malicious that redress is necessary to maintain one's reputation."

Mr. Brown said farther, that his relations with Luella Upmeyer had always been friendly; that he helped her in more ways than one, and he cited an instance of paying the funeral expense of her children. A reporter was unsuccessful in learning of the whereabouts of the woman, consequently her side of the story was not heard.

'TWAS A DEATH HOLE.

Criminal Carelessness on the Part of a Railroad Causes Two Men to Meet Death in the Same Way.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 1.—At 7 o'clock last evening Thomas Lewis, aged thirty, son of a prominent Baltimore physician, stepped from a Baltimore and Ohio train and fell through the broken platform, striking on the ice in the creek thirty-nine feet below, and was instantly killed.

At 11:30 p. m., Richard Knight, salesman for Cleveland, Ohio, stepped from another Baltimore and Ohio train and fell through the same hole in the platform onto the ice, and breaking through, disappeared. His body was not recovered. Indignation at the railroad company is intense for having no safe guard on the collapsed platform.

MET DEATH INSTANTLY.

McGowan Throws His Mother Out of a Window.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—William C. McGowan was locked up late last night on suspicion of having thrown his mother from a five-story window, killing her almost instantly. An officer saw the woman fall, at about 11:20 last night, and he ran over to pick her up. As he reached her he heard her murmer: "Oh, I didn't think you would do that." Then her head fell back and she died in his arms. The officer then went up into the house and arrested McGowan in the room from which the woman was thrown. McGowan's father and sister, who were in another room, said they heard a scuffle between William and his mother and on the strength of these statements he was locked up. At the station house McGowan said his father had thrown Mrs. McGowan out of the window and the old gentleman was also locked up. The sister, Maggie McGowan, was detained as a witness.

Escaped from Slavery in 1812.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 1.—John Shaw, a well known colored man, died very suddenly here this week. He was born in slavery about one hundred years ago in Little York, Va. In 1812 he and five other slaves escaped to the British warship Sapphire, lying in the Chesapeake bay, and were landed in Bermuda. They were, before their escape, slaves on an estate near York river and were the property of a man named Griffin, who owned 600 slaves.

New Years Crime.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—John W. Galvin, a laborer, fifty years of age, was shot through the heart and almost instantly killed by John T. Gresseley, shortly after midnight in the rear of 1449 Biddle street. Galvin was leaning out of a second story window listening to the noise made by people celebrating the advent of New Years and Greasley fired a revolver in the air, the ball striking Galvin.

The Maverick Savings Bank.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—A special from San Antonio, Tex., says: Assignee Houston, of the Maverick Savings bank, reports finding assets of $100,000 not included in the original schedule. The accounts, however, are so badly tangled that it will be months before the affairs are wound up. Mr. Houston says that depositors receive 100 cents on the dollar and a large surplus will remain.

Canada's Foreign Policy.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Professor Goldwin Smith has an article in the Macmillan's Magazine which is exciting much interest. The writer bitterly attacks Canada's foreign policy, and denounces the high tariff introduced and enforced by Sir John Macdonald's government as a most ridiculous piece of legislation.

Non-Partisan Temperance Work.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The ladies of the Non-Partisan Women's Temperance union are considerable chagrined over the apparent failure of their efforts to bring about the use of unfermented wine instead of the fermented article in the communion services of the different churches of this city.

Wrecked the Engine.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 1.—An engine on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern, on which there were five train men, collided with a coal train on Tuesday night, wrecking the engine completely and seriously injuring all the men. The loss is heavy.

Took Strychnine.

NEWPORT, Ark., Jan. 1.—Miss Emma Eadmond, living near Swifton, eighteen miles from here, committed suicide yesterday by taking a dose of strychnine. She left a letter giving directions for her burial, but assigned no reason for her rash act.

ABELINE, Kas., Jan. 1.—The Wallace county bank closed its doors yesterday. Liabilities about $45,000; assets are nominally, $60,000, but are almost entirely in valueless western lands and notes.

BARON HIRSCH'S SCHEME.

Russian Jews to Be Colonized as Farmers in Argentine Republic.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—With reference to the proposed organization for the colonization of Jews of the Argentine Republic, the bureau of American republics furnishes the following from the Revue d'Americaine, Paris: "We have before referred to the projects of Baron Hirsh, who proposes to establish in the Argentine Republic a Jewish colony of 500,000 persons from Russia, which enterprise will require a capital of $20,000,000. Rothschild, the great banker of Frankfort, and several other powerful Jewish capitalists will participate in the undertaking, which, besides the possible idea of gain, will assure to the Israelite colonies a shelter against the anti-Semitic movement, which in eastern Europe threatens not only their property but their lives.

"Some time since Baron Hirsch sent out several agents to study the conditions which the Argentine Republic offered to the proposed emigration. At their head was Dr. Lowenthal, who has particularly examined the climate of the different regions of the Republic. As a result of the examinations the enterprise seems to be in a fair way to start favorably. One cannot sufficently praise an undertaking which before a great while will have transplanted to Argentine soil 500,000 good Russian farmers, and which will in itself double the extent of lands devoted in the Argentine to agricultural products."

QUEER FINDING

In a License Case at Portland, Indiana.

PORTLAND, Jan. 1.—The famous license case brought here from Winchester has been occupying the court for several days, and ended yesterday.

It was the application of Lafayette Irvin for a liquor license. Over sixty witnesses were here from Winchester. Every inch of the ground was hotly contested, and the temperance people were determined to make Winchester a dry town.

The jury found that Irvin was a moral man and filled all the requirements of the law, but found he was not a proper person to have license. The attorneys are puzzled and are divided in opinion as to whether the judge can now grant the license on this kind of a finding. The judge has not passed on the case yet.

HER IRE AROUSED!

A Veiled Woman Dashes A Pitcher of Blue Vitriol Into the Face of a Greencastle Barber.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Jan. 1.—Never before in the history of Putnam county was there such a strange and vicious assault as was perpetrated in this city last evening. Shortly before 7 o'clock, as Theodore Kleinbub, a resident of the north part of the city, was returning home from his place of business, he was met by a thickly-veiled woman, who, thinking it was his brother, E. D., rushed upon him with a pitcher of some unknown acid.

Seeing from beneath the gleam of the gas light that she was mistaken in her victim, she suddenly disappeared in the darkness, and a few moments later appeared at the business place of Kleinbub Bros., the most popular barbers of this city. Mr. E. D. Kleinbub was busy at his chair when a small boy handed him a note, which read: "Come to the door a moment." As he approached the door some unknown woman dashed a pitcher of blue vitriol in his face. His face is in a most critical condition. It is said that he knows who perpetrated the deed, but people are in the dark as yet.

THE STORM.

It is General Throughout the Country--Colder To-Morrow.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—A storm of unusual energy is central in the Mississippi valley near St. Louis, attended by general rains over the entire country east of the Mississippi, except on the New England coast and in Florida. The storm is followed on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains by a cold wave, extending from Minnesota to Texas, and by snow in Iowa, Kansas, Indian Territory and western Missouri. The temperature is unusually high in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, it being from 20 to 30 degrees above the normal from Missouri and Iowa eastward to Pennsylvania to Virginia. Colder, clearing weather, with a cold wave, will prevail throughout the central valleys and lake region during Friday, preceded by rain changing to snow.

DIABOLICAL DEED

Committed By a Tramp at Plymouth, Mich.

PLYMOUTH, Mich., Jan. 1.—Miss Thursta Cummins, of Canton, aged about thirty-eight, and living alone on her farm, was aroused Monday night by a man knocking at her door, and requesting lodging for the night.

She refused to admit him, and he broke down the door, criminally assaulted her, and cut her throat, but not fatally. He then plundered the house, after which, finding her still alive, he stabbed her three times in the side with a bread knife.

She laid in her blood until evening, when with great effort, she went to the door and called a neighbor, Ben Bolton, who summoned other neighbors and Dr. Adams.

The doctor thinks there is doubt of her recovery. The villain is a young man, stout of build, and is still at liberty, with no clew as to his whereabouts.

WOMEN'S WAY

Or Beating a Highwayman Who Attacked Them.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 1.—Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Eby and Mrs. Williamson, who live ten miles north of Wabash, bought a large bill of goods here and started home in a buggy about 7 o'clock in the evening. When just outside the city limits a man in disguise approached the buggy from the rear and began lifting the parcels of dry goods out. One of the ladies saw him and pounded him over the head with the buggy whip, but he stood the punishment until he had secured every article. Then, after tearing off the wrappers so as to avoid detection, he disappeared across the fields. There is not the slightest clew to the bold highwayman.

A HAPPY New Year to all.

THE New Year was ushered in in this city with a heavy shower of rain.

REMAIN true to your good resolves. Drop your evil and ruinous habits.

FATHER TIME has passed another mile stone. The old year gone; the new year is here.

THE Indian war has cost some of the soldiers in our regular army their lives. They fell in defense of our flag and deserve the honors given the soldier dead of other and greater wars.

THE state of old Virginia has the distinction of having the biggest debt of any state in the union, being in round numbers $31,525,535.24. It has long been a heavy drag to the state.

THE year that has just closed has been a prosperous one to the city of Fort Wayne and witnessed many improvements in every branch of industry. May the one upon which we have just entered be still more marked in this respect, and place us many strides in advance of our present condition.

THE best way to make amends for the failures of life is to enter its battles again with a determination to win. Life is earnest, life is real and he who becomes a hero in it must act well his part. Brooding over failures will only make one's condition worse. Be up and doing and success will come.

PRESIDENT HARRISON, with the assistance of Postmaster-General Wanamaker and General Whitfield, the first assistant postmaster-general, is making an investigation into the recent killing of J. P. Matthews, postmaster at Carrollton, Miss. The testimony shows that the killing was the unfortunate result of a personal difficulty between two men and politics did not enter into the cause in the slightest degree.

THE time when good educations were only within reach of the wealthy has long since passed, and to day we are living in an age of free education and free schools, and those who will not avail themselves of these are certainly not deserving the sympathy and aid which is so liberally accorded to those who are deserving, and who are endeavoring to fit themselves for a position in life becoming the subject of a country holding out every inducement and offering every advantage that could be desired.

AMONG all the indications of a brighter future for America, none are more cheering than the surely growing taste among the people of reading and thought upon the great public questions of the time, and the declining power of personal leadership and dictation. The more we revolt from the standards of personal magnetism and the sway of infectious enthusiasm, and accustom ourselves to independent inquiry and voluntary action, the more will we approach the attainment of the true dignity of freedom.

HISTORY teaches that the closing years of each of the bygone centuries have been rendered memorable by a more than usual amount of sorrows, troubles and ills to which mankind is heir. Alarmed lest the century should pass away without the human race receiving its full quota of suffering, the powers of nature appear to have crowded into its concluding years all the unspent hoard of pestilence, famine, war and catastrophes of every kind. Nor does the final decade of the nineteenth century seem destined to prove any exception to the rule.

THE Indian is a good shot. Adjutant General Keller says of them: "The Indians are well armed with Winchester hunting rifles, and at close range are better shots, as a rule, than the soldiers. An Indian's shot must kill. He can not afford to miss, for in his ammunition depends his life, his food, his safety. He has all of the instincts that tend to good marksmanship. A quick eye, a sure touch, and nerves under perfect control, he never loses his head, and under the most trying conditions amid the greatest danger he is always cool."

ORIGINAL ORIGINAL PACKAGE.

Ingenious Invention of a Minneapolis Man to Nullify Prohibition.

An ingenious Minneapolis man has invented and placed on sale what he calls a "spirit level," and with it he proposes to knock out prohibition in Iowa and the Dakotas. The "level" consists of a small box, the ends of which are sealed, but a gentle punch breaks the paper and there is revealed on one end a round hole that will receive a lead pencil and on the other end when broken appears a cork. The thirsty purchaser who pulls gently on this brings to view a long vial filled with brandy, or old rye, or anything that may be desired, provided the assortment of "spirit-levels" in stock is large enough. Holes in the side admit to view an air bubble, which verily makes the affair a spirit-level, albeit not a very accurate one. One saloon is doing a land-office business in "levels." A large pile of the little boxes can be seen in a local job printing office where the wrappers are being printed. It is asserted that this is the most original "original package" ever devised.

HURTS HIS BUSINESS.

An Occupation in Life Which Natural Gas Has Injured.

"I don't like this natural gas business," said a little urchin who was putting a "shine" on a SENTINEL reporter's shoes last evening.

"Why, Jonnie," asked the scribe. "What's the matter with the natural gas?"

"Oh, it makes my business awfully dull. I don't mean blacking boots. I do just as much of that as I ever did, but its the carrying of the wood and coal. Natural gas has knocked that part of my business all to pieces. I used to earn 25 and 50 and 75 cents every morning at that, but now there isn't anything of that kind to do. I tell you its a pretty slim living I make now. Oh, yes, some days I get along pretty well blacking boots, but I tell you all of our 'profesh' miss the quarters we used to earn last winter carrying wood and coal."

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Jefferson and Florence To-Night—The Coming Attractions.

The announcement that Joseph Jefferson and W. J. Florence, the two most eminent comedians upon the American stage to day, will appear to-night in their best of plays, "The Rivals," will crowd the Temple. It will be the event of the theatrical season.

The Little Nugget company, which comes here Saturday night, is simply immense. The Cawthorns, Herbert and Joe, as the Irish and German comedians, will keep the house in constant laughter, for they are finished comedians, original in all they do, and do their work in the most clever manner.

Frank Mayo is underlined at the Temple Monday next.

"Cuchillo," the name of Wm. Redmund's new play, in which he appears here next Tuesday, is attracting considerable attention.

MANAGER ACHENBACH RESIGNS

A Popular Musical Leader Retires to Engage in Extensive Business.

Much of the success of the First Regiment band and orchestra has been due to the earnest efforts of Harry Achenbach, its manager, consequently the members of the organization have reason to regret losing the young man. Mr. Achenbach will retire from the band altogether and will engage in the music business on an extensive scale, in which enterprise he will be associated with George Jacobs, of the City band. They will have a large double store on Calhoun street, near the present location of Mr. Achenbach's store.

"I had rather be a kitten and cry mew" than groan all night and scold all day with neuralgia, when one little bottle of Salvation Oil would make me gentle and well. Pussy, wouldn't you?

Coughs, hoarseness, asthma or any irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes will be relieved by taking Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It has cured thousands. Recommend it to your friend and neighbor.

A bazar held in New York city by the Teachers' Mutual Benefit association cleared $50,000.

KUHNS TALKS.

Tells of a Deed He Had Intended Do at Warsaw.

William Jackson, of the White Front restaurant, was in Fort Wayne last week, says the Warsaw Union, and through the courtesy of some friends, was permitted to have a brief talk with the Noble county desperado, Marvin Kuhns, whom he had met at his place of business in this city a few days before the commencement of the fair. Among other things the desperado said that at the time he was here it was the intention of himself and partner that night "to blow out the lights of a certain man for seventeen hundred dollars," adding to his remarks a significant wink, but his partner's heart failed him and the job was abandoned. He is rapidly recovering from his gun shot wounds, and by the time he is ready to assume the position assigned him by the penitentiary authorities, he will be a well man.

The Tiffin, Ohio, Advertiser says: "Prosecutor-elect Schroth states that Kuhns will be held in Fort Wayne until his case can be brought before the grand jury at the January term of court of common pleas in this county, and if an indictment is found against him he will be brought to this county to be tried for Campean's murder; otherwise he will be tried in Noble county, Indiana, for shooting Officer Kennelly with intent to kill."

MARRIAGE NOT A FAILURE.

The Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. Griffith.

Wedding anniversaries come once a year, but the twenty-fifth mile stone of wedded happiness comes not to every couple. A devoted husband and fond mother must experience a most sacred feeling of joy to pause in their journey of life and reflect over their past matrimonial relations. Such a feeling surely came to ex-Councilman Levi Griffith and wife, of 77 West Williams street, last evening, when their beautiful home was invaded by a large party of friends, whose coming was a complete surprise.

The occasion was to celebrate the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith. When the guests had all assembled Mr. Henry Vreeland introduced Mr. Enoch Cox, who, on behalf of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith, presented the couple with an elegant silver tea service. After the presentation the guests had the freedom of the house and the evening passed very enjoyably. The party dispersed at an early hour in the morning.

STEPPED ON A NAIL.

Mrs. Daniel Dick, of Butler Street, Has a Serious Accident.

Mrs. Daniel Dick, of 89 Butler street, wife of the well known engineer, stepped on a rusty nail, which penetrated her foot nearly two inches. The wound is a very painful one and by reason of the possibility of lock-jaw in such cases there is the gravest apprehension as to the result. The unfortunate lady is under the care of a physician and everything possible is being done to relieve her of the intense pain.

THE attempt to resurrect a Charlie Ross sensation was short-lived. His alleged discovery in Boston under the guise of a burglar proved as baseless as the thousand and one others that his abduction has given rise to. In all human probability the boy is dead long since, and has not been brought up to a life of crime. It is at least to be hoped so.

THERE are 942 submarine cables, exclusive of the seven Atlantic cables, with an aggregate of 112,740 nautical miles; 1,600,960 miles of overland wire; the United States has 776,500 miles of wire; France 220,890, and Great Britain 189,000 miles; the United States in 1889 transmitted 56,000,000 messages, France 30,000,000; and Great Britain 50,000,000.

IN New York it is estimated, according to the output, that the annual consumption is fifteen whole pies for each man, woman and child within the city. There are twenty establishments that bake pies exclusively. Of these one company turns out 8,500 pies a day, or 2,660,500 pies a year, not counting Sundays, and another averages 7,000 a day, or 2,191,000 a year.

ONE of the results of the development of Africa will be an increase in the supply of ivory. The annual slaughter of the elephant on the continent at present reaches 65,000. IN Paris the thousands of sardine and other tin boxes that are thrown away every month form the basis of an industry which has reached large proportions. These refuse cans are stamped by machinery into tin soldiers, and sold so cheaply that the poorest children can possess them; yet the manufacturer makes a fair profit, which he could not do if he used new material.

ARKANSAS has won a cock fight from Louisiana, with the accompanying stakes, amounting to about $500. This cannot hurt Louisiana very much, for the operations of the lottery which she has so long fostered and profited by have resulted in taking all the spare change out of Arkansas for many a year past.

THOSE who have given close study to the requirements of the human system in the matter of food say that a healthy man requires 300 grains of nitrogen and 4,600 grains of carbon daily to repair the waste that goes on during the twenty-four hours. As meat contains 100 grains of carbon and 300 of nitrogen in every 1,000 grains, it would be necessary to eat six and one half pounds of meat to supply the amount of carbon the system requires, which would entail the consumption of a great deal more nitrogen than the system needs. On the other hand, bread contains 800 grains of carbon and ten of nitrogen in every 1,000 grains, so that to obtain the amount of nitrogen required it is necessary to consume twice as much bread as will supply the requisite of carbon. These caculations indicate the value of a mixed diet.

TO WEAK MEN

Suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early decay, wasting weakness, lost manhood, etc., I will send a valuable treatise (sealed) containing full particulars for home cure, FREE of charge. A splendid medical work; should be read by every man who is nervous and debilitated. Address, Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.

"Some lives are like Horse shoes the more worn the brighter." Busy wives who use SAPOLIO never seem to grow old. Try a cake...

A complete wreck of domestic happiness has often resulted from badly washed dishes, from an unclean kitchen, or from trifles which seemed light as air. But by these things a man often judges of his wife's devotion to her family, and charges her with general neglect when he finds her careless in these particulars. Many a home owes a large part of its thrifty neatness and its consequent happiness to SAPOLIO.

☞ Grocers often substitute cheaper goods for SAPOLIO, to make a better profit. Send back such articles, and insist on having just what you ordered. ☜

THE SKIN.

Is an important factor in keeping good health; if it does not act in the way intended by nature, its functions are performed by other organs,—the Kidneys and the Lungs; and the result is a breakdown of general health.

Swift's Specific

is the remedy of nature to stimulate the skin to proper action. It never fails in this, and always accomplishes the purpose.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

May It Be Bright, Prosperous and Happy to All is the Wish of Our Railroad Reporter.

A happy new year to all.

The new platform at the new store room of the electric light works is completed.

George Welch has accepted a position in the Wood department of the Electric light works.

Edward Gaffney, of the Kerr Murray works, will do fancy skating at the rink this evening.

John Crawford, of the Pittsburg shops, has left to spend New Years day at Columbia City.

C. Rodenbeck, fireman on the Grand Rapids road, has reported for duty after a few days absence on account of sickness.

Wm. Connors, of the Olds wagon works, has a black eye to start with on the new year. He was accidently hit with a missile.

Limited passenger trains on the Fort Wayne and Wabash roads, due in this city at 5:35 a. m., arrived three hours late this morning.

John Hobel, of the machine department of the Kerr Murray works, is at Jackson, Mich., where he went in the interest of the firm.

Dick Wells, of the blacksmith department of the American wheel works, gave a New Years dinner at his home in South Wayne to day.

Edward Clayton and P. Schoppman, of the Bass boiler shop, left yesterday afternoon for Huntington to place a set of flues in a boiler for the firm.

The Bass moulding rooms and all the departments of the Wabash shop, which have been closed down for a few days, will resume operation afternoon.

The news around the manufacturing centers was very scarce this morning. They are all closed down to allow the employes to observe New Years day.

General Foreman Jack McClure, of the Wabash shops at Andrews, arrived in this city last evening to spend New Years day with his family on West Williams street.

Frank A. Mangan, telegraph student in the office of the Pennsylvania railroad, at Dixon, O., is in the city for a few days, the guest of relatives on East Butler street.

Freight engine No. 113, of the Fort Wayne road, which has been in the shops to receive general repairs, has been turned out. It is used on the eastern division.

The night force of switchmen in the yards of the Lake Erie and Western road, will be taken off to-night for an indefinite period. The day men being able to do the work.

"This is a New Year," was the answer received by our railroad man from the boys in the shop, upon his inquiry of "What's new," while on his regular trip around the busy centers this morning.

James Olive has resigned his position in the organ factory and will accept a similar one in the machine department of the Wabash shops. He will start upon the duties of his new position next Monday.

Charles Bates, of the Chicago shipyards, who is in this city visiting his parents, on Charles street, will return to that place this evening. He formerly held a position in the American wheel works.

Engine No. 18 has been turned out of the Wabash shops. It is from the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw road and was received here for a general overhauling. It will be taken to the headquarters at Jackson, Mich.

The reduction made in grades on the Lake Shore road during the last two years enables the company with its present number of engines, to haul fifteen more cars between Buffalo and Chicago than before the improvements were made.

The threat of J. L. Moore, ex general manager of the Cincinnati, Sandusky and Cleveland road, to build a new road paralleling his old one, is not regarded seriously. For years the Cincinnati, Sandusky and Cleveland road has barely existed, and could not have made both ends meet but for the judgment it secured against the Ohio, Indiana and Western road, and the rental which the Bee line paid for thirty-three miles of its road; and when the road was turned over to the Big Four a receivership stared the company in the face and had much to do with the suddenness with which the stockholders of the Cincinnasi, Sandusky and Cleveland road accepted President Ingalls' offer.

Shifting engine No. 188, of the eastern division of the Pittsburg railroad, which was received in the shops here for a general overhauling, has been turned out and now looks like a new engine. It will be taken to Chicago to be used in the company's yards at that place.

Joseph Mills and David McClure, of the machine department of the Wabash shops, have returned from a three days stay at Toledo, O. They are expert skaters, and while there spent most of the time on the St. Joe. The river at that place was in perfect condition for skating, and they report a very pleasant time.

John Mead, a brakeman on the Lake Erie and Western road, at Lima, Ohio, has returned home after spending the holidays here. He has been a visitor in this city many times and is quite well known. He was a brakeman on the Nickel Plate road in this city several years ago and made his headquarters here.

Monday there was filed with County Recorder Thompson a mortgage for $1,440,000 given by the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad in favor of the Washington Trust company of New York. With this the company expects to push the road through to this city at an early date. They will enter this city via the Wabash track from New Haven.

Welch, the slate roofer, will commence work on the new blacksmith shop of the Bass works to morrow, and the building will be ready for occupancy in about three weeks. The machinery used in this department will be of the latest and best pattern, and will be used to turn out heavy forgings and car axles. Joseph Slater is foreman of this department.

The legislature of New York at its coming session will be asked to pass a law that no road in that state shall employ in a responsible position, such as agent or telegraph operator, a person less than seventeen years of age. It is believed that this will, in a large measure, rid the roads of incompetent men in important positions, such as those named.

The report published by a Chicago paper that the Pennsylvania company was likely to resume the payment of commissions is declared by officers of the company to be wholly without foundation. It is said E. A. Ford, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, was never more opposed to paying commissions to secure business than now. The report grew out of a letter alleged to have been written recently by Mr. Ford, in which he is quoted as saying that, under certain conditions, certain agents would be allowed commissions. The letter fell into the hands of a competitor of the Pennsylvania lines and was made the basis of the allegation. Investigation has shown that the letter was written by Mr. Ford in 1887, when the Pennsylvania lines paid commissions, but by a change of the date is made to appear as having been written in 1890, and quite recently.

Something for the New Year.

The world's renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a remedy for malaria, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by the Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing 60 hands in that department. They are running about 11 months in the year on this work, and the issue of the same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, &c., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

If you want to visit friends in Cleveland, or any other city along the line of the Nickel Plate road, one fare for round trip is the rate during holiday week. tf

LUCKY ONES.

The Winners of Prizes at Sam, Pete & Max and A. S. Lauferty's Stores.

Several weeks ago the enterprising firm of Sam, Pete & Max offered a free trip to Europe or California to the person guessing the nearest to the number of seeds in a watermelon displayed in their show window. Great interest was shown in the contest, and thousands of guesses were registered. Last Tuesday night a committee met to count the seeds and award the prize.

It was found that there were 1,126 seeds in the melon, and that on December 8, at 9:50 a. m. Henry Horstmeyer, of Williams' Station, had registered a guess of 1,100. A few days later, Wm. Hitzman guessed the same number. These were found to be the nearest guesses, and inasmuch as Mr. Horstmeyer made the first guess, he was declared the winner, and will be the lucky man to take the trip. Sam, Pete & Max always do the nice thing with their customers.

LAUFERTY'S GIFT.

Arthur Cox, of this city, is a lucky man. He won the lot given away last night by A. S. Lauferty, the popular Calhoun street clothier. A committee of newspaper men shook up all the guess numbers in a paper box, and decided that the twenty-fifth number taken out should draw the lot. There were over 3,000 numbers in the box on slips of paper, and they were so thoroughly shuffled that every one stood a fair chance of coming out the lucky one. With bated breath the crowd watched the blindfolded man take the numbers out of the box. The twenty-fifth number taken out proved to be 1,388, the winner, which was held by Arthur Cox. The committee did not look him up last night, but he is supposed to be Arthur P. Cox, laborer at the Pennsylvania shops. The first alternate was number 1,387, drawn by Mr. W. N. Baldwin. The second alternate was 1,389, drawn by Jacob Fisher. The lot won by Mr. Cox is lot 114, White's fourth addition to the eastern part of the city. On March 17, 1877, George E. Mayer and C. Mayer, his wife, deeded it to A. S. Lauferty for $300. Mr. Lauferty is an enterprising merchant and very liberal.

THE favorite food of the Sandwich-Islanders is the flesh of the Mexican hairless dog. It is said to taste like spring chicken and is considered a great dainty. These dogs are raised in large numbers and are fattened for the market.

WHILE we propose to treat everybody fairly and with due consideration, still, people who have business with the chiropodist themselves will do well to avoid stepping on our feet. We pare our own corns with a razor, and it might be dangerous.

THE fatherly government of Russia has sentenced a woman nihilist, Sophie Guengberg, to be hanged. She did not murder anybody, but it is thought she was going to incite somebody to kill the Czar. Therefore because she merely, perhaps, thought "kill" she is be hanged.

THE meteorological observatory at the Massachusetts Agricultural College has received a delicate and expensive apparatus for the measurement of the electric potentiality of the atmosphere. This instrument is the only one of its kind in the United States and one of the few in the world.

THE site of the Andersonville Prison has become the property of the Grand Army of the Republic. It was largely occupied by those who are now members of the order, somewhat more than twenty-five years ago, and now possession is followed by the title in fee. The whirligig of time is a lively toy.

A STRANGE but sentimental practice prevails in Ohio of releasing an inmate of the State prison on Thanksgiving day as a kind of official recognition of the festival. It is contrary to good sense and common morals. If the convict is fit to be released at all, he should not be detained there on any pretext, but restored to society for that reason, and with confidence in him. If he is not ready for it, he should not be let loose on the community under any plea or romantic excuse.

THE two worst despotisms in the Europe of to day are those of Russia and nihilism. Russia refuses to recognize the rights of men, as individuals, and nihilism ignores the rights of men as organized in communities. The people of the United States are justly horrified at the atrocities of Siberia, but they have as much reason to be horrified at the false and fatal doctrines of the extremists who deny that there is any right higher than that of the individual to please himself. Absolutism would be better than this.

THE census of illiteracy in Europe and America is as follows: Roumania, Russia, and Servia, 80 per cent. of the population are unable to read or write; Spain, 48; Hungary, 43; Austria, 30; Ireland, 21; France and Belgium, each 15; England 13; Holland, 10; United States (whites), 8; Scotland, 7; Switzerland 2½, German Empire, 1; in Sweden, Denmark, Bavaria, Baden, and Wurtemberg, there is not a single person over 10 years of age unable to read or write.

DURING the last nine months 20,400 Italians (chiefly of the less desirable class), 11,000 Poles, and 17,700 Hungarians have been admitted into this country. It is safe to say that not one in ten of these 49,100 immigrants will act the part of honest, industrious and desirable citizens; and still we go on receiving such people, careless of the grave danger that such a course involves.

WHEN Brigham Young invited Mlle. Rita Sanganello to appear at Montana, he fixed the charge of admission at one fowl, and a supplementary pigeon if the fowl was not as plump as it might be. The night's receipts amounted to 700 fowls and 50 pigeons; and the dancer had no reason to complain when she was paid her equivalent in cash at the rate of 10 shillings per fowl and 9 shillings per pigeon.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES.

In many instances there has been little change in prices, especially in staple goods. The sugar market has been steady, the clique who has had hold of it being afraid to advance prices. In consequence of the tariff agitation this was not so last year where in one instance inside of 30 days they sent prices up over 3c. per pound.

Coffee A. Standard, 6¼c. Coffee C. Extra Yellow, 6c.

Granulated, Crushed and Powdered, 7c.

The Tea market in second grades has been much higher; these qualities have advanced over 5c. In the first qualities there has been no change, fortunately we had a large supply before the advance which enabled us to continue to sell to our customers at old prices. Our motto in dealing in Teas, like other goods, is to buy in large quantities and we sell direct to the consumer, thereby saving to our customers the profits of the jobber and speculator, which is not less than 10 and 20c. on the pound. This is the secret in the success of our Tea trade trade-large sales and small profits.

There are indications of a great decline in coffee the next two months as receipts in Rio and Santos are very large, and this being shipped to New York will compel the clique who has had hold of the market to let go, and in consequence the market will go down: Prices remain as last quoted:

DEATH OF JOHN HARPER.

An Old Resident Passes Away--Death of Julius Manth.

Last evening at 9:20 o'clock occurred the death of John Harper, Esq., an old and respected resident. For many weeks Mr. Harper had been ill at his home, 365 West Main street and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was one of the pioneers of Aboite township, but he lived in this city since last April. The surviving members of the family are James B. and Benjamin F. Harper, the attorneys, and three other children grown up.

John Harper was born in Franklin county, Pa., near Chambersburg, November 16, 1817. He is the son of William and Rachel (Duley) Harper, natives of Pennsylvania. The father, whose occupation was farming and shoemaking, died February 7, 1848. Mr. Harper was educated in the common schools and worked with his father until twenty-one years of age. Then buying a small tract of land, he engaged in farming, and seven years later, in 1848, moved to Allen county, Ind. He purchased 200 acres of land, and settled in the woods to develop his present fine farm. He was married April 28, 1842, to Lizzie Byall, daughter of James Byall, a native of Maryland, who served in the war of 1812, and died in Ohio in 1855. Mr. and Mrs. Harper have had eight children, five of whom are living: Isaiah W., James B., Benjamin F., Eliza and Victoria. Isaiah is a farmer and resides near the old homestead. He cast his first vote for William Henry Harrison in 1840.

FERGUSON'S FLAMES.

The Fire Fiend Visits the Doctor's Residence.

Last evening fire was discovered in the handsome brick residence of Dr. Wm. T. Ferguson, No. 82 West Berry street. The flames first made their appearance in the basement and undoubtedly originated from a defective flue. Speedily the spacious rooms were filled with flames and in spite of the efforts of the fire department, a loss of $1,000 was sustained. The damage is to the furniture, library and the other articles. The residence proper escaped with slight loss. Dr. Ferguson carried $900 insurance.

A DEVICE has been submitted to the British admiralty by which, it is said, the largest battle ship in the service can, in four minutes, be protected from the attack of any number of torpedoes, no matter how skillfully they may be directed.

THE two sides of the human face are not exactly alike, and a German biologist asserts that the lack of symmetry, as arule, is confined to the upper part of the face; in two cases out of five the eyes are out of line, and seven persons out of every ten have stronger sight in one eye than in the other; another singular fact is that the right ear is almost invariably higher than the left.

CONGRESS has passed an appropriation of $350,000 for the purchase of the Portage Lake and River Improvement Co.'s canal and the Lake Superior Ship Canal Railway and Iron Co.'s canal. These works connect Portage Lake with Lake Superior, and will now be made free from tolls. The copper-mining industries will be greatly benefited by this action of Congress.

THE following populations make an interesting comparison: Russian Empire, 113,354,649; United States, 62,480,540; Germany, 46,852,450; Austria-Hungary, 40,464,808; France, 38,218,903; Great Britain and Ireland, 35,246,633; Italy, 28,460,000; Spain, 17,550,246. It is only a question of time when we shall lead even Russia, and with our increase will be the leadership of the English-speaking civilization.

THERE were in the United Kingdom, at the end of June last, according to a recent return, 10,034 engines, or 96 per cent., and 51,793 passenger vehicles, or 96 per cent. of the total, fitted with continuous brakes, which comply, or partly comply, with the Board of Trade requirements. As compared with the returns of June, 1889, there is an increase of one in the percentage of engines, and of four in that of the carriages thus fitted.

PROBABLY the smallest and most unique postoffice in the world is a barrel which swings from the outermost rock of the mountains overhanging the Straits of Magellan, opposite Terra del Fuego. Every passing ship opens it to place letters in it or take letters out. Every ship undertakes to forward all letters in it that it is possible for it to transmit. The barrel hangs by its iron chain, beaten and battered by the winds and storms, but no locked or barredoffice on land is more secure.

PLEASANT "SMOKER."

The Electric Club Thus Bid Adieu to the Old Year.

The Fort Wayne Electric club held an elegant smoker last evening at the club hall. The first part of the evening was spent in a social way and a little before midnight the party repaired to the lecture hall, where tables were arranged and plates turned for 100 gentlemen. Here an elegant luncheon was served in courses. At its close Mr. M. M. M. Slattery, the toastmaster, made a very happy address.

He was followed by Brainard Rorison, Chas. Miller, Dr. Dryer, H. H. Tompkins, Alex. Seabrease, W. R. Kimball, Harry Templar, C. L. Olds and C. R. Worden. The Hayden quartette furnished the music.

ONE of the ways of stimulating invention which is well worthy of trial is offering standing rewards for those who at any time make discoveries of great advantage to human progress. Our patent laws do this indirectly by giving to the inventor exclusive control of his discoveries for a term of years. But these laws do not always protect those who most need protection, and are often used for the term of the patent in the most oppressive manner. It is a common trick of patentees to make no complaints when their inventions are made and sold by outsiders, but to prosecute vigorously those in whose hands their inventions are afterwards found. In this way thousands of dollars were extorted from farmers for driven-well patents, until the highest courts decided that this patent was invalid. Laws should be made protecting those who innocently use patented ideas, as articles containing these are sold to them. It would also probably be well to at least try to purchase some of the more valuable patents from their inventors for a round sum, for the purpose of making a present of them to the public for the public good.

ANARCHY and its loud-mouthed, long-haired devotees, are dying a slow, sure death. This is a poor country for the red flag. It will never thrive on American soil, and some of these fine days it will wither up like an autumn leaf and float back to Poland and the land of the Czar. Each year these queer revolutionists lift themselves upon their European legs and celebrate the hanging of the Chicago Haymarket bombthrowers. Sometimes they put flowers on their "martyrs'" graves and sometimes they do not, as suits their often not overly plethoric purses. However, they never omit threatening dire vengeance on the Government for "murdering" their patron saints and say perfectly dreadful things about the American people. It is to be noted, though, that there is no more dynamite work since that wholesome hanging lesson. As long as they take it out in talk and content themselves with ventilating their windy lungs nobody need care much. Let's be amused at them awhile and see how soon they get tired of it.

IT is a strange coincidence that exactly 100 years ago young girls in London were in constant terror of meeting the "Jack the Ripper" of that day. He attacked and wounded several ladies in several parts of the town, cutting their garments and gashing them in the body with a sharp-pointed instrument, although he never went as far as murder. In April, 1790, a large reward was offered for the apprehension of "the Monster," as he was popularly called.

FIRE VISITS BLAINE!

The Home of the Secretary of State at Washington in Damaged by the Fire Fiend.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Secretary Blaine's residence on Dupont circle, now occupied by Mr. Lister, the Chicago millionaire, took fire shortly before 12 o'clock to-day and a general alarm was sounded. The fire department at once responded and the flames were soon extinguished. The fire was confined to the top floor and the damage was not great.

Great excitement was created during the reception at the white house, by the report that the secretary's residence was on fire, and the president sent a special messenger to confirm the report. A general alarm was sounded. The fire originated in the third story of the house and made its way to the various cupolas. This rendered the task of extinguishing the fire very difficult. The principal loss was by water and smoke. The loss on the building will not be large, but the damage to furniture and carpets may amount to several thousand dollars.

OTHER FIRES.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 1.—The old Wilkinson and Green mill was gutted by fire last night. Loss, $125,000; fully insured. The mill has lately been run by the Dexter Yarn company.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 1.—Fire started in Bancheman & Allen's five-story block, on Gabriel street, last night. The damage is $100,000, and the insurance $30,000. The proprietors were wholesale book sellers and stationers.

ATTEMPTED INSURRECTION.

The Bold Plans of Revolutionists Foiled at Lima, in Peru.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Advices from Peru, received yesterday, give the details of the revolution which occurred in Lima on December 3. Pierola, the Bogleager of Peru, has been quietly at work for some time among the lower classes endeavoring to create a revolution which would place him in the position of dictator. On the afternoon, December 3, several of Pierola's chosen followers obtained admission to Fort Santa Gallicnia with about eighty of their men. A pre-arranged signal was given and the insurrectionists suddenly took possession of the fort. The government troops were called out and for two hours a fierce fight was waged, which ended in the defeat of the revolutionists.

The Peruvian consul said yesterday that there was no fear of a further outbreak. On the day following the affair, he said the people flocked to the palace and assured President Bernudez of their loyalty to the government. The correspondents of W. E. Gross make light of the trouble and say that there is no further danger of a revolution. Had the followers of Pierola succeeded it would thoroughly have upset Peruvian affairs, both political and commercial. Seventy-five of the insurrectionists were killed in the fight at the fort.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Treat Senator Pettigrew's Brother, Whose Death Occurs in Dakota.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 1.—Justin A. Pettigrew, brother of Senator Pettigrew, died at 10 o'clock last night. He was forty-five years of age and leaves a wife and daughter. He had been ill since Thanksgiving and his wife, being an ardent believer in Christian science, persuaded him to accept that treatment. Last week relatives living in the city telegraphed Senator Pettigrew in Washington to come home at once. As soon as the senator arrived, he cleared his brother's house of theorists and called in several regular physicians, who declared yesterday that it was too late. The Christian scientists, on the other hand, assert that had their treatment of the patient been left alone he would not have died. There is considerable feeling the city over the circumstance.

RIOT IN ALABAMA.

Several People Killed at Catharine Station.

UNIONTOWN, Ala., Jan. 1.—There was a riot at Catharine Station, on the Mobile and Birmingham railroad Tuesday night, and it is reported that several people have been killed. The difficulty arose out of a fight, and their friends took up the contest. The colored postmaster at the place was ordered to leave town, which he did. The excitement continued unabated, and application has been made by the sheriff to Governor Jones to have troops sent to quell the disturbance.

EXCESSIVE DRINKING

Causes a Man to Kill His Wife—Another Sad Case.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Crazed by apparently unfounded jealousy and excessive drinking, Leo Klien, a German thirty-four years old, fatally shot his wife and then killed himself, shortly after 5 o'clock last evening, at his home, No. 536 Sedgwick street.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Charles H. Butterfield, who cut his throat with a pen knife in a cell at the Harrison street police station Tuesday night, died at the county hospital yesterday. He was an old and well known telegraph operator, but whisky ruined him.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 1.—M. B. Lapping late this afternoon shot Victor Heath and W. B. Emerick, employes in Adamson's chattel mortgage office. Adamson, the proprietor, is now serving a term in Stillwater. The firm foreclosed on some property of Lapping, and yesterday he walked into the office with a big revolver and began shooting. Both Heath and Emerick were wounded, but not fatally. Lapping has been captured.

THE INDIAN WAR.

The End is Not Yet—A Bloody War Looked For.

HURON, S. D., Jan. 1.—Hump and Iron Thunder, two noted Sioux chiefs, arrived here yesterday in charge of Captain Ewers, of the Fifth infantry. They were going to Rapid City to meet General Miles. In speaking of Two Strike's death, Hump said: "Two Strike very bad. All his band bad Indians. No good. Big Foot ought to dis long ago. Never loved him. He make great trouble. Hope he 'sure dead." Hump and Big Foot were sworn enemies, and each was watching to get a chance to kill the other.

RUSHVILLE, Neb., Jan. 1.—Some few Cheyennes and scouts, Red Cloud and all the lesser chiefs, except American Horse, have joined their brethren for the last great fight. The storm still rages and gives every advantage to the Indians, either for fighting or, escaping to some safe retreat. The end is not yet.

SAN ANTONIA, Tex., Jan. 1.—Brigadier-General Stanley, who spent eight years among the Sioux, thinks a war will follow the fight at Wounded Knee, as it only required bloodshed to arouse the Indians. He was in the City of Mexico when Sitting Bull was killed, and returned immediately, as he believed that trouble would ensue. Speaking of the Indians, he said that if once they smelt blood they could not be restrained. An Indian will enlist as a scout to fight other Indians, and be ready, after his term of service expires, to fight the scouts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—An army officer tells your correspondent that General Miles, some days ago, urgently recommended to the secretary of war the dismissal of the Indian agents at the Pine Ridge, Rosebud, Lower Brule, Standing Rock and Crow Creek agencies, in South Dakota, and the assignment in their places of five well known army officers.

He did this, not as a reflection upon the agents, but, he said, because he believed a crisis existed among the Indians in that region which would require the attention of the army, and he thought it would be wisdom to have such officers at those posts, said in charge of the Indians, as would have authority and experience necessary to make prompt military moves.

It is stated that the recommendation received the indorsement of General Schofield and Secretary Proctor, and was sent to Secretary Noble for his indorsement, preparatory to being laid before the president. The secretary of the interior, the report states, took some time to consider the matter, then refused to indorse it, and laid it before the cabinet at the last meeting, with the intimation that such a proposal should not come from the war department, as it was an interference with the business of another department. The president, it is stated, came to the conclusion that the interior department was able to handle the Indian question for the present, at least, and there it was dropped.

Had it succeeded it is likely that it would have led to the ultimate transfer of all the Indians to the war department, a move which has been agitated for some time, and is very popular in congress.

ALL PERISHED.

A Burning Building Falls in On Seven Children.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 1.—Sunday night Scott Thompson, colored, who lives near Bayboro, in company with his wife went to church leaving seven children, five of his own and two grand children, at home, their ages ranging from infancy to about fifteen years. Before the services ended Thompson's house was found to be on fire and the congregation made a rush for it. Before the children could be rescued the building fell in and every one of the children perished in the flames.

Twenty-five or thirty witnesses were examined, and after exhaustive arguments on legal points involved, the court decided that McBride acted in self-defense and discharged him.

STORY OF A WIFE.

James J. Brown Alleged to Have Deserted His Wife at Toledo—His Emphatic Denial.

James J. Brown, a traveling man for a Cincinnati house, with headquarters in this city, has retained Gen. John C. Lee, of Toledo, to commence a suit for libel against the Toledo Blade for $10,000. He bases his claim on a sensational article which appeared in last Tuesday's edition of that paper. The story, an interesting one, in which Mr. Brown and a Fort Wayne woman are principals, is told as follows by the Blade:

A pretty, dark-blue eyed young woman came into the infirmary office this morning. She timidly stated that she would like to get back to her home in Fort Wayne, Ind. Director Kirkby and Baumbach questioned her a little and sent her to Mrs. Brooks, of the Humane office. The latter soon learned a touching story of abuse and desertion, and the young woman gave such excellent references that she was given an order for a ticket from Toledo to Fort Wayne over the Wabash. She will leave at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

She stated to Mrs. Brooks, that her name was Luella Brown, and that she had been living in the upper part of John F. Kampf's house, at 592 Erie street, and that after selling off nearly everything she had, her husband had left her destitute and alone.

A reporter for the Blade called at Mr. Kampf's. He is a cabinetmaker at Conant's furniture store. Mrs. Brown came down stairs at Mrs. Kampf's request. She is a medium-sized, fair-faced young lady, and gave her age as twenty-one. She has very dark eye brows and dark hair, extremely bright, blue eyes and nicely formed features. She would be considered anywhere as a very handsome woman. To the reporter she told the following story:

"I was born twenty-one years ago, in Ohio, and when very young we moved to Fort Wayne, Indiana. My name used to be Madden, and I suppose we are relatives of the Maddens who live at North Baltimore, in Wood county. They are well known and wealthy residents of that town. My father has been a patrolman in Fort Wayne for seventeen years, and although a good man in most respects, he was very cruel to us children. I have five brothers, and my mother, who is still alive, is one of the best women who ever lived. But father was so unkind that when I was ten years old I was adopted into the family of a neighbor. They treated me very kindly.

"But I was only fourteen years old when a German young man named Upmeyer made my acquaintance. I thought I loved him and we were married. He treated me very kindly for a time, but one day when I was sick with typhoid fever he ran away with our hired girl, and I have not seen or heard of him but once since. Meantime our baby was born, and he never saw it until it was dead. It lived a few months and when it died he came home just as they were putting it into its coffin. He helped to tie the white crepe on the door and then went away. That is the last I have seen of him.

"After the funeral, and I had recovered from the shock, I went into old Mr. Bond's family as a companion to the old people. They were one of the wealthiest and most prominent families there, and I had a very good home. I was out to a party one evening when I met James J. Brown, who said he was a traveling salesman for Boory & Co., liquor dealers of Cincinnati. He took a fancy to me and we went together quite a while. I was just arranging to go with the Bonds on a trip to Mexico when Brown asked me to marry him. He was highly thought of in Fort Wayne, and every one thought me very lucky. They think he is very nice yet, for that matter. I told him I was already tied up to one man.

"'Never mind that. I'll fix that for you if you will marry me,' said he.

"So he made application for a divorce for me and paid for it. I had no trouble getting it, for every one knew me there and my misfortune. We got the divorce one day and were married the next.

"Well, Jim had to go off on the road, and only got home once in awhile. I thought he was the best man there was alive, and used to await his coming with such hope and happiness as only a true wife can know. About a year ago our little boy was born, and we loved him so much. His mother came up from Newark, New Jersey, and then I commenced to know more about my husband than I ever thought could be possible. I loved him so much I never stopped to think what he might have been. His mother told me he was heir to an estate in Newark which would bring him $15,000, and that the relative from whom it was coming was almost dead. I told her all my history, and when I told her I had been divorced, she said:

"'That's odd, James had a wife, too, before he married you.'

"'He did!' said I. 'Why, he never told me anything about it.'

"Then she went on to tell me that he had married one of the grandest ladies in Newark, and that after they had lived together about a year his wife had ... with the chief of police of Newark. It caused a great sensation at the time, and the papers were full of it. I was greatly surprised that he had never said anything about it, but I thought he was afraid of hurting my feelings. I don't know if he was ever divorced from her or not. His people are among the most prominent in Newark, and they are all nice folks but my husband.

"Well, our little boy died about four months ago. I had two or three sicknesses, in which I nearly died, and the baby did too. My husband was away all the time, and finally I said he would have to give up the road or give up me, so we came to Toledo three months ago, and rented the upstairs to this house. My husband got furniture and carpets of Draper & Nugent, giving them a chattel mortgage on them. He got a position at the Central chandelier company, where he earned $1.75 a day. But he didn't spend it on me, I can tell you. I don't know what he did. He was away nights and came home at all hours.

"About three weeks ago he came home and said his uncle had died in Newark, and that he must go to Cincinnati at once to see about his $15,000. I thought it was all right at first, and then I mistrusted something. I found out that his uncle was not dead, and he did not go to Cincinnati. Since then he has been very abusive to me. My brothers sent me $18 a short time ago, and he got that away from me. He has been in the militia service and draws a pension. I am told he has signed away this pension several times to raise money, which is against the law.

"A day or two ago he said he was going back on the road for Boory's and started to pack up. He took all the little pictures from the walls, which I had bought with my own money. I am sure that he pawned them. He also took up the carpet, which he got of Draper & Nugent, and carried that away. Last Sunday he came home and there was no wood or coal. He never gave me any money for anything. So he went down stairs and smashed a banister to pieces for fire while he was home. He has been home only once or twice since. The last time was this morning, and he said when he left that he was sick of me, anyway, and would never come back again. I suppose he has left the city.

"Yesterday he tried to get some money from Mrs. Kampf, but he didn't succeed."

"Yes,' spoke up Mrs. Kampf. "He showed two checks on the First National bank, one for $200 and one for $250. I would have given him money on them, but I didn't have it on hand. Saturday he tried to get a lot of goods from Manton's store, on the strength of a $600 note he claimed was all right. The checks were from Boory & Co., of Cincinnati. He didn't say how a Cincinnati business house came to be doing their business in Toledo. I can say that what Mrs. Brown has said is absolutely true and it isn't a hundredth part of what he has done to her, so far as their living in my house is concerned. She has been a true, devoted wife right along, and has stood more than I ever would. He hasn't left her her clothing even, and almost everything is gone from their room. She has a spinal disease, and is almost paralyzed on one side."

Mrs. Kampf has supplied her with clothing, as far as possible, and done all she can to help the unfortunate girl.

At the Central Chandelier works it was learned that Brown had quit work December 6 and gone to Detroit. Brown was supposed to have been in Detroit ever since, but his wife says he has been there several times. She broke into fits of weeping every few minutes in telling her story, and says she is going home to her mother at Fort Wayne and stay there, but would like revenge on her husband in some way.

The chattel mortgage referred to is found in the probate office to have been given by James J. Brown to Draper & Nugent, November 21, 1890, and is for $69.70. As to the validity of the checks offered for payment to Mrs. Kampf, nothing is known, but developments are expected. Mrs Brown will be at her old home before midnight, and the curtain will doubtless drop on the toddling drama, so far as Toledo is concerned.

BROWN INTERVIEWED.

J. J. Brown, who is thrust into such unpleasant notoriety, is in the city. He was seen at the Grand Central hotel by a SENTINEL reporter and was quite willing to talk. He denied in toto the article in the Blade and said that he had already begun a suit for libel against that paper. "The story, I think," said he, "is the evil doing of the Mrs. Kampf mentioned. The woman Luella Upmeyer is not my wife, but we are to be married. She is at present in this city—and will deny the story the same as I do. I am still working for the house of Boory & Co., and expect to remain with them. Some of the assertions made in the Blade's article are so malicious that redress is necessary to maintain one's reputation."

Mr. Brown said farther, that his relations with Luella Upmeyer had always been friendly; that he helped her in more ways than one, and he cited an instance of paying the funeral expense of her children. A reporter was unsuccessful in learning of the whereabouts of the woman, consequently her side of the story was not heard.

'TWAS A DEATH HOLE.

Criminal Carelessness on the Part of a Railroad Causes Two Men to Meet Death in the Same Way.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 1.—At 7 o'clock last evening Thomas Lewis, aged thirty, son of a prominent Baltimore physician, stepped from a Baltimore and Ohio train and fell through the broken platform, striking on the ice in the creek thirty-nine feet below, and was instantly killed.

At 11:30 p. m., Richard Knight, salesman for Cleveland, Ohio, stepped from another Baltimore and Ohio train and fell through the same hole in the platform onto the ice, and breaking through, disappeared. His body was not recovered. Indignation at the railroad company is intense for having no safe guard on the collapsed platform.

HET DEATH INSTANTLY.

McGowan Throws His Mother Out of a Window.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—William C. McGowan was locked up late last night on suspicion of having thrown his mother from a five-story window, killing her almost instantly. An officer saw the woman fall, at about 11:20 last night, and he ran over to pick her up. As he reached her he heard her murmur: "Oh, I didn't think you would do that." Then her head fell back and she died in his arms. The officer then went up into the house and arrested McGowan in the room from which the woman was thrown. McGowan's father and sister, who were in another room, said they heard a scuffle between William and his mother and on the strength of those statements he was locked up. At the station house McGowan said his father had thrown Mrs. McGowan out of the window and the old gentleman was also locked up. The sister, Maggie McGowan, was detained as a witness.

Escaped from Slavery in 1812.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 1.—John Shaw, a well known colored man, died very suddenly here this week. He was born in slavery about one hundred years ago in Little York, Va. In 1812 he and five other slaves escaped to the British warship Sapphire, lying in the Chesapeake bay, and were landed in Bermuda. They were, before their escape, slaves on an estate near York river and were the property of a man named Griffin, who owned 600 slaves.

Gressaley, shortly after midnight in the rear of 1449 Biddle street. The Maverick Savings Bank.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—A special from San Antonio, Tex., says: Assignee Houston, of the Maverick Savings bank, reports finding assets of $100,000 not included in the original schedule. The accounts, however, are so badly tangled that it will be months before the affairs are wound up. Mr. Houston says that depositors receive 100 cents on the dollar and a large surplus will remain.

Canada's Foreign Policy.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Professor Goldwin Smith has an article in the Macmillan's Magazine which is exciting much interest. The writer bitterly attacks Canada's foreign policy, and denounces the high tariff introduced and enforced by Sir John Macdonald's government as a most ridiculous piece of legislation.

BARON HIRSCH'S SCHEME.

Russian Jews to Be Colonized as Farmers in Argentine Republic.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—With reference to the proposed organization for the colonization of Jews of the Argentine Republic, the bureau of American republics furnishes the following from the Revue d'Americaine, Paris: "We have before referred to the projects of Baron Hirsh, who proposes to establish in the Argentine Republic a Jewish colony of 500,000 persons from Russia, which enterprise will require a capital of $20,000,000. Rothschild, the great banker of Frankfort, and several other powerful Jewish capitalists will participate in the undertaking, which, besides the possible idea of gain, will assure to the Israelite colonies a shelter against the anti-Semitic movement, which in eastern Europe threatens not only their property but their lives.

"Some time since Baron Hirsch sent out several agents to study the conditions which the Argentine Republic offered to the proposed emigration. At their head was Dr. Lowenthal, who has particularly examined the climate of the different regions of the Republic. As a result of the examinations the enterprise seems to be in a fair way to start favorably. One cannot sufficiently praise an undertaking which before a great while will have transplanted to Argentine soil 500,000 good Russian farmers, and which will in itself double the extent of lands devoted in the Argentine to agricultural products."

QUEER FINDING

In a License Case at Portland, Indiana.

PORTLAND, Jan. 1.—The famous license case brought here from Winchester has been occupying the court for several days, and ended yesterday.

It was the application of Lafayette Irvin for a liquor license. Over sixty witnesses were here from Winchester. Every inch of the ground was hotly contested, and the temperance people were determined to make Winchester a dry town.

The jury found that Irvin was a moral man and filled all the requirements of the law, but found he was not a proper person to have license. The attorneys are puzzled and are divided in opinion as to whether the judge can now grant the license on this kind of a finding. The judge has not passed on the case yet.

HER IRE AROUSED!

A Veiled Woman Dashes A Pitcher of Blue Vitriol Into the Face of a Greencastle Barber.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Jan. 1.—Never before in the history of Putnam county was there such a strange and vicious assault as was perpetrated in this city last evening. Shortly before 7 o'clock, as Theodore Kleinhub, a resident of the north part of the city, was returning home from his place of business, he was met by a thickly-veiled woman, who, thinking it was his brother, E. D., rushed upon him with a pitcher of some unknown acid.

Seeing from beneath the gleam of the gas light that she was mistaken in her victim, she suddenly disappeared in the darkness, and a few moments later appeared at the business place of Kleinhub Bros., the most popular barbers of this city. Mr. E. D. Kleinhub was busy at his chair when a small boy handed him a note, which read: "Come to the door a moment." As he approached the door some unknown woman dashed a pitcher of blue vitriol in his face. His face is in a most critical condition. It is said that he knows who perpetrated the deed, but people are in the dark as yet.

The temperature is unusually high in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, it being from 20 to 30 degrees above the normal from Missouri and Iowa eastward to Pennsylvania to Virginia. Colder, clearing weather, with a cold wave, will prevail throughout the central valleys and lake region during Friday, preceded by rain changing to snow.

DIABOLICAL DEED

Committed By a Tramp at Plymouth, Mich.

PLYMOUTH, Mich., Jan. 1.—Miss Thursia Cummins, of Canton, aged about thirty-eight, and living alone on her farm, was aroused Monday night by a man knocking at her door, and requesting lodging for the night.

She refused to admit him, and he broke down the door, criminally assaulted her, and cut her throat, but not fatally. He then plundered the house, after which, finding her still alive, he stabbed her three times in the side with a bread knife.

She laid in her blood until evening, when with great effort, she went to the door and called a neighbor, Ben Bolton, who summoned other neighbors and Dr. Adams.

The doctor thinks there is doubt of her recovery. The villain is a young man, stout of build, and is still at liberty, with no clew as to his whereabouts.

WOMEN'S WAY

Of Beating a Highwayman Who Attacked Them.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 1.—Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Eby and Mrs. Williamson, who live ten miles north of Wabash, bought a large bill of goods here and started home in a buggy about 7 o'clock in the evening. When just outside the city limits a man in disguise approached the buggy from the rear and began lifting the parcels of dry goods out. One of the ladies saw him and pounded him over the head with the buggy whip, but he stood the punishment until he had secured every article. Then, after tearing off the wrappers so as to avoid detection, he disappeared across the fields. There is not the slightest clew to the bold highwayman.

A HAPPY New Year to all.

THE New Year was ushered in in this city with a heavy shower of rain.

REMAIN true to your good resolves. Drop your evil and ruinous habits.

FATHER TIME has passed another mile stone. The old year gone; the new year is here.

THE Indian war has cost some of the soldiers in our regular army their lives. They fell in defense of our flag and deserve the honors given the soldier dead of other and greater wars.

THE state of old Virginia has the distinction of having the biggest debt of any state in the union, being in round numbers $31,525,535.24. It has long been a heavy drag to the state.

THE year that has just closed has been a prosperous one to the city of Fort Wayne and witnessed many improvements in every branch of industry. May the one upon which we have just entered be still more marked in this respect, and place us many strides in advance of our present condition.

THE best way to make amends for the failures of life is to enter its battles again with a determination to win. Life is earnest, life is real and he who becomes a hero in it must act well his part. Brooding over failures will only make one's condition worse. Be up and doing and success will come.

PRESIDENT HARRISON, with the assistance of Postmaster-General Wanamaker and General Whitfield, the first assistant postmaster-general, is making an investigation into the recent killing of J. P. Matthews, postmaster at Carrollton, Miss. The testimony shows that the killing was the unfortunate result of a personal difficulty between two men and politics did not enter into the cause in the slightest degree.

THE time when good educations were only within reach of the wealthy has long since passed, and to day we are living in an age of free education and free schools, and those who will not avail themselves of these are certainly not deserving the sympathy and aid which is so liberally accorded to those who are deserving, and who are endeavoring to fit themselves for a position in life becoming the subject of a country holding out every inducement and offering every advantage that could be desired.

AMONG all the indications of a brighter future for America, none are more cheering than the surely growing taste among the people of reading and thought upon the great public questions of the time, and the declining power of personal leadership and dictation. The more we revolt from the standards of personal magnetism and the sway of infectious enthusiasm, and accustom ourselves to independent inquiry and voluntary action, the more will we approach the attainment of the true dignity of freedom.

HISTORY teaches that the closing years of each of the bygone centuries have been rendered memorable by a more than usual amount of sorrows, troubles and ills to which mankind is heir. Alarmed lest the century should pass away without the human race receiving its full quota of suffering, the powers of nature appear to have crowded into its concluding years all the unspent hoard of pestilence, famine, war and catastrophies of every kind. Nor does the final decade of the nineteenth century seem destined to prove any exception to the rule.

THE Indian is a good shot. Adjutant General Keller says of them: "The Indians are well armed with Winchester hunting rifles, and at close range are better shots, as a rule, than the soldiers. An Indian's shot must kill. He can not afford to miss, for in his ammunition depends his life, his food, his safety. He has all of the instincts that tend to good marksmanship. A quick eye, a sure touch, and nerves under perfect control, he never loses his head, and under the most trying conditions amid the greatest danger he is always cool."

ORIGINAL ORIGINAL PACKAGE.

Ingenious Invention of a Minneapolis Man to Nullify Prohibition.

An ingenious Minneapolis man has invented and placed on sale what he calls a "spirit level," and with it he proposes to knock out prohibition in Iowa and the Dakotas. The "level" consists of a small box, the ends of which are sealed, but a gentle punch breaks the paper and there is revealed on one end a round hole that will receive a lead pencil and on the other end when broken appears a cork. The thirsty purchaser who pulls gently on this brings to view a long vial filled with brandy, or old rye, or anything that may be desired, provided the assortment of "spirit-levels" in stock is large enough. Holes in the side admit to view an air bubble, which verily makes the affair a spirit-level, albeit not a very accurate one. One saloon is doing a land-office business in "levels." A large pile of the little boxes can be seen in a local job printing office where the wrappers are being printed. It is asserted that this is the most original "original package" ever devised.

HURTS HIS BUSINESS.

An Occupation in Life Which Natural Gas Has Injured.

"I don't like this natural gas business," said a little urchin who was putting a "shine" on a SENTINEL reporter's shoes last evening.

"Why, Jonnie," asked the scribe. "What's the matter with the natural gas?"

"Oh, it makes my business awfully dull. I don't mean blacking boots. I do just as much of that as I ever did, but its the carrying of the wood and coal. Natural gas has knocked that part of my business all to pieces. I used to earn 25 and 50 and 75 cents every morning at that, but now there isn't anything of that kind to do. I tell you its a pretty slim living I make now. Oh, yes, some days I get along pretty well blacking boots, but I tell you all of our 'profesh' miss the quarters we used to earn last winter carrying wood and coal."

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Jefferson and Florence To-Night... The Coming Attractions.

The announcement that Joseph Jefferson and W. J. Florence, the two most eminent comedians upon the American stage to day, will appear to-night in their best of plays, "The Rivals," will crowd the Temple. It will be the event of the theatrical season.

The Little Nugget company, which comes here Saturday night, is simply immense. The Cawthorns, Herbert and Joe, as the Irish and German comedians, will keep the house in constant laughter, for they are finished comedians, original in all they do, and do their work in the most clever manner.

Frank Mayo is underlined at the Temple Monday next.

"Cuohillo," the name of Wm. Redmund's new play, in which he appears here next Tuesday, is attracting considerable attention.

MANAGER ACHENBACH RESIGNS

A Popular Musical Leader Retires to Engage in Extensive Business.

Much of the success of the First Regiment band and orchestra has been due to the earnest efforts of Harry Achenbach, its manager, consequently the members of the organization have reason to regret losing the young man. Mr. Achenbach will retire from the band altogether and will engage in the music business on an extensive scale, in which enterprise he will be associated with George Jacobs, of the City band. They will have a large double store on Calhoun street, near the present location of Mr. Achenbach's store.

"I had rather be a kitten and cry mew" than groan all night and scold all day with neuralgia, when one little bottle of Salvation Oil would make me gentle and well. Pussy, wouldn't you?

Coughs, hoarseness, asthma or any irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes will be relieved by taking Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It has cured thousands. Recommend it to your friend and neighbor.

BURNS TALKS.

Tells of a Deed He Had Intended Do at Warsaw.

William Jackson, of the White Front restaurant, was in Fort Wayne last week, says the Warsaw Union, and through the courtesy of some friends, was permitted to have a brief talk with the Noble county desperado, Marvin Kuhns, whom he had met at his place of business in this city a few days before the commencement of the fair. Among other things the desperado said that at the time he was here it was the intention of himself and partner that night "to blow out the lights of a certain man for seventeen hundred dollars," adding to his remarks a significant wink, but his partner's heart failed him and the job was abandoned. He is rapidly recovering from his gun shot wounds, and by the time he is ready to assume the position assigned him by the penitentiary authorities, he will be a well man.

The Tiffin, Ohio, Advertiser says: "Prosecutor-elect Schroth states that Kuhns will be held in Fort Wayne until his case can be brought before the grand jury at the January term of court of common pleas in this county, and if an indictment is found against him he will be brought to this county to be tried for Campean's murder; otherwise he will be tried in Noble county, Indiana, for shooting Officer Kennelly with intent to kill."

MARRIAGE NOT A FAILURE.

The Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. Griffith.

Wedding anniversaries come once a year, but the twenty-fifth mile stone of wedded happiness comes not to every couple. A devoted husband and fond mother must experience a most sacred feeling of joy to pause in their journey of life and reflect over their past matrimonial relations. Such a feeling surely came to ex-Councilman Levi Griffith and wife, of 77 West Williams street, last evening, when their beautiful home was invaded by a large party of friends, whose coming was a complete surprise.

The occasion was to celebrate the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith. When the guests had all assembled Mr. Henry Vreeland introduced Mr. Enoch Cox, who, on behalf of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith, presented the couple with an elegant silver tea service. After the presentation the guests had the freedom of the house and the evening passed very enjoyably. The party dispersed at an early hour in the morning.

STEPPED ON A NAIL.

Mrs. Daniel Dick, of Butler Street, Has a Serious Accident.

Mrs. Daniel Dick, of 89 Butler street, wife of the well known engineer, stepped on a rusty nail, which penetrated her foot nearly two inches. The wound is a very painful one and by reason of the possibility of lock-jaw in such cases there is the gravest apprehension as to the result. The unfortunate lady is under the care of a physician and everything possible is being done to relieve her of the intense pain.

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the replies will be positive in its favor. One has been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia, another finds it indispensible for sick headache, others report remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum, etc. Truly the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a sure remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, but is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once.

THE attempt to resurrect a Charlie Ross sensation was short-lived. His alleged discovery in Boston under the guise of a burglar proved as baseless as the thousand and one others that his abduction has given rise to. In all human probability the boy is dead long since, and has not been brought up to a life of crime. It is at least to be hoped so.

THERE are 942 submarine cables, exclusive of the seven Atlantic cables, with an aggregate of 112,740 nautical miles; 1,000,000 miles of overland wire; the United States has 776,500 miles of wire; France 220,800, and Great Britain 190,000 miles; the United States in 1889 transmitted 56,000,000 messages, France 30,000,000; and Great Britain 50,000,000.

IN New York it is estimated, according to the output, that the annual consumption is fifteen whole pies for each man, woman and child within the city. There are twenty establishments that bake pies exclusively. IN Paris the thousands of sardine and other tin boxes that are thrown away every month form the basis of an industry which has reached large proportions. ARKANSAS has won a cock fight from Louisiana, with the accompanying stakes, amounting to about $500. THOSE who have given close study to the requirements of the human system in the matter of food say that a healthy man requires 300 grains of nitrogen and 4,600 grains of carbon daily to repair the waste that goes on during the twenty-four hours. As meat contains 100 grains of carbon and 300 of nitrogen in every 1,000 grains, it would be necessary to eat six and one half pounds of meat to supply the amount of carbon the system requires, which would entail the consumption of a great deal more nitrogen than the system needs. On the other hand, bread contains 800 grains of carbon and ten of nitrogen in every 1,000 grains, so that to obtain the amount of nitrogen required it is necessary to consume twice as much bread as will supply the requisite of carbon. These conclusions indicate the value of a mixed diet.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

May It Be Bright, Prosperous and Happy to All to the Wish of Our Railroad Reporter.

A happy new year to all.

The new platform at the new store room of the electric light works is completed.

George Welch has accepted a position in the Wood department of the Electric light works.

Edward Gaffney, of the Kerr Murray works, will do fancy skating at the rink this evening.

John Crawford, of the Pittsburg shops, has left to spend New Years day at Columbia City.

C. Rodenbeck, fireman on the Grand Rapids road, has reported for duty after a few days absence on account of sickness.

Wm. Connors, of the Olds wagon works, has a black eye to start with on the new year. He was accidently hit with a missile.

Limited passenger trains on the Fort Wayne and Wabash roads, due in this city at 5:35 a. m., arrived three hours late this morning.

John Hobel, of the machine department of the Kerr Murray works, is at Jackson, Mich., where he went in the interest of the firm.

Dick Wells, of the blacksmith department of the American wheel works, gave a New Years dinner at his home in South Wayne to-day.

Edward Clayton and F. Schoppman, of the Bass boiler shop, left yesterday afternoon for Huntington to place a set of flues in a boiler for the firm.

The Bass moulding rooms and all the departments of the Wabash shop, which have been closed down for a few days, will resume operation afternoon.

The news around the manufacturing centers was very scarce this morning. They are all closed down to allow the employes to observe New Years day.

General Foreman Jack McClure, of the Wabash shops at Andrews, arrived in this city last evening to spend New Years day with his family on West Williams street.

Frank A. Mangan, telegraph student in the office of the Pennsylvania railroad, at Dixon, O., is in the city for a few days, the guest of relatives on East Butler street.

Freight engine No. 113, of the Fort Wayne road, which has been in the shops to receive general repairs, has been turned out. It is used on the eastern division.

The night force of switchmen in the yards of the Lake Erie and Western road, will be taken off to-night for an indefinite period. The day men being able to do the work.

"This is a New Year," was the answer received by our railroad man from the boys in the shop, upon his inquiry of "What's new," while on his regular trip around the busy centers this morning.

James Olive has resigned his position in the organ factory and will accept a similar one in the machine department of the Wabash shops. He will start upon the duties of his new position next Monday.

Charles Bates, of the Chicago shipyards, who is in this city visiting his parents, on Charles street, will return to that place this evening. He formerly held a position in the American wheel works.

Engine No. 16 has been turned out of the Wabash shops. It is from the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw road and was received here for a general overhauling. It will be taken to the headquarters at Jackson, Mich.

The reduction made in grades on the Lake Shore road during the last two years enables the company with its present number of engines, to haul fifteen more cars between Buffalo and Chicago than before the improvements were made.

The threat of J. L. Moore, ex general manager of the Cincinnati, Sandusky and Cleveland road, to build a new road paralleling his old one, is not regarded seriously. For years the Cincinnati, Sandusky and Cleveland road has barely existed, and could not have made both ends meet but for the judgment it secured against the Ohio, Indiana and Western road, and the rental which the Bee line paid for thirty-three miles of its road; and when the road was turned over to the Big Four a receivership stared the company in the face and had much to do with the suddenness with which the stockholders of the Cincinnati, Sandusky and Cleveland road accepted President Ingalls' offer.

Shifting engine No. 188, of the eastern division of the Pittsburg railroad, which was received in the shops here for a general overhauling, has been turned out and now looks like a new engine. It will be taken to Chicago to be used in the company's yards at that place.

Joseph Mills and David McClure, of the machine department of the Wabash shops, have returned from a three days stay at Toledo, O. They are expert skaters, and while there spent most of the time on the St. Joe. The river at that place was in perfect condition for skating, and they report a very pleasant time.

John Mead, a brakeman on the Lake Erie and Western road, at Lima, Ohio, has returned home after spending the holidays here. He has been a visitor in this city many times and is quite well known. He was a brakeman on the Nickel Plate road in this city several years ago and made his headquarters here.

Monday there was filed with County Recorder Thompson a mortgage for $1,440,000 given by the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad in favor of the Washington Trust company of New York. With this the company expects to push the road through to this city at an early date. They will enter this city via the Wabash track from New Haven.

Welch, the slate roofer, will commence work on the new blacksmith shop of the Bass works to-morrow, and the building will be ready for occupancy in about three weeks. The machinery used in this department will be of the latest and best pattern, and will be used to turn out heavy forgings and car axles. Joseph Slaiser is foreman of this department.

The legislature of New York at its coming session will be asked to pass a law that no road in that state shall employ in a responsible position, such as agent or telegraph operator, a person less than seventeen years of age. It is believed that this will, in a large measure, rid the roads of incompetent men in important positions, such as those named.

The report published by a Chicago paper that the Pennsylvania company was likely to resume the payment of commissions is declared by officers of the company to be wholly without foundation. It is said E. A. Ford, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, was never more opposed to paying commissions to secure business than now. The report grew out of a letter alleged to have been written recently by Mr. Ford, in which he is quoted as saying that, under certain conditions, certain agents would be allowed commissions. The letter fell into the hands of a competitor of the Pennsylvania lines and was made the basis of the altercation. Investigation has shown that the letter was written by Mr. Ford in 1887, when the Pennsylvania lines paid commissions, but by a change of the date is made to appear as having been written in 1890, and quite recently.

Something for the New Year.

The world's renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by the Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing 68 hands in that department. They are running about 11 months in the year on this work, and the issue of the same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, &c., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

Holiday Rates.

The Nickel Plate will sell excursion tickets between all stations on the line from December 26, 1890, to January 1, 1891, inclusive, good to return on any train January 3, 1891, at one fare for the round trip. 18-tf.

If you want to visit friends in Cleveland, or any other city along the line of the Nickel Plate road, one fare for round trip is the rate during holiday week. tf

LUCKY ONES.

The Winners of Prizes at Sam. Pete & Max and A. S. Lanferty's Stores.

Several weeks ago the enterprising firm of Sam, Pete & Max offered a free trip to Europe or California to the person guessing the nearest to the number of seeds in a watermelon displayed in their show window. Great interest was shown in the contest, and thousands of guesses were registered. Last Tuesday night a committee met to count the seeds and award the prize.

It was found that there were 1,126 seeds in the melon, and that on December 8, at 9:50 a. m. Henry Horstmeyer, of Williams' Station, had registered a guess of 1,100. A few days later, Wm. Hitzman guessed the same number. These were found to be the nearest guesses, and inasmuch as Mr. Horstmeyer made the first guess, he was declared the winner, and will be the lucky man to take the trip. Sam, Pete & Max always do the nice thing with their customers.

LAUFERTY'S GIFT.

Arthur Cox, of this city, is a lucky man. He won the lot given away last night by A. S. Lauferty, the popular Calhoun street clothier. A committee of newspaper men shook up all the guess numbers in a paper box, and decided that the twenty-fifth number taken out should draw the lot. There were over 3,000 numbers in the box on slips of paper, and they were so thoroughly shuffled that every one stood a fair chance of coming out the lucky one. With bated breath the crowd watched the blindfolded man take the numbers out of the box. The twenty-fifth number taken out proved to be 1,888, the winner, which was held by Arthur Cox. The committee did not look him up last night, but he is supposed to be Arthur P. Cox, laborer at the Pennsylvania shops. The first alternate was number 1,887, drawn by Mr. W. N. Baldwin. The second alternate was 1,889, drawn by Jacob Fisher. The lot won by Mr. Cox is lot 114, White's fourth addition to the eastern part of the city. On March 17, 1877, George E. Mayer and C. Mayer, his wife, deeded it to A. S. Lauferty for $300. Mr. Lauferty is an enterprising merchant and very liberal.

The favorite food of the Sandwich-Islanders is the flesh of the Mexican hairless dog. It is said to taste like spring chicken and is considered a great dainty. These dogs are raised in large numbers and are fattened for the market.

While we propose to treat everybody fairly and with due consideration, still, people who have business with the chiropodist themselves will do well to avoid stepping on our feet. We pare our own corns with a razor, and it might be dangerous.

The fatherly government of Russia has sentenced a woman nihilist, Sophie Guengberg, to be hanged. She did not murder anybody, but it is thought she was going to incite somebody to kill the Czar. Therefore because she merely, perhaps, thought "kill" she is be hanged.

The meteorological observatory at the Massachusetts Agricultural College has received a delicate and expensive apparatus for the measurement of the electric potentiality of the atmosphere. This instrument is the only one of its kind in the United States and one of the few in the world.

The site of the Andersonville Prison has become the property of the Grand Army of the Republic. It was largely occupied by those who are now members of the order, sometimes more than twenty-five years ago, and now possession is followed by the title in fee. The whirligig of time is a lively toy.

A stranger but sentimental practice prevails in Ohio of releasing an inmate of the State prison on Thanksgiving day as a kind of official recognition of the festival. It is contrary to good sense and common morals. If the convict is fit to be released at all, he should not be detained there on any pretext, but restored to society for that reason, and with confidence in him. If he is not ready for it, he should not be let loose on the community under any plea or romantic excuse.

The two worst despotisms in the Europe of to-day are those of Russia and nihilism. Russia refuses to recognize the rights of men, as individuals, and nihilism ignores the rights of men as organized in communities. The people of the United States are justly horrified at the atrocities of Siberia, but they have as much reason to be horrified at the false and fatal doctrines of the extremists who deny that there is any right higher than that of the individual to please himself. Absolutism would be better than this.

The census of illiteracy in Europe and America is as follows: Roumania, Russia, and Servia, 80 per cent. of the population are unable to read or write; Spain, 48; Hungary, 43; Austria, 30; Ireland, 21; France and Belgium, each 15; England 13; Holland, 10; United States (whites), 8; Scotland, 7; Switzerland 2½, German Empire, 1; in Sweden, Denmark, Bavaria, Baden, and Wurtemberg, there is not a single person over 10 years of age unable to read or write.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

Symptoms—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

The Christmas and New Years excursion tickets will be sold at one fare for round trip. Tickets on sale December 26, 1890, to January 1, 1891, good returning including January 2, 1891. tf

During the last nine months 20,400 Italians (chiefly of the less desirable class), 11,000 Poles, and 17,700 Hungarians have been admitted into this country. It is safe to say that not one in ten of these 49,100 immigrants will act the part of honest, industrious and desirable citizens; and still we go on receiving such people, careless of the grave danger that such a course involves.

When Brigham Young invited Mlle. Rita Sanganello to appear at Montana, he fixed the charge of admission at one fowl, and a supplementary pigeon if the fowl was not as plump as it might be. The night's receipts amounted to 700 fowls and 50 pigeons; and the dancer had no reason to complain when she was paid her equivalent in cash at the rate of 10 shillings per fowl and 2 shillings per pigeon.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES.

In many instances there has been little change in prices, especially in staple goods. The sugar market has been steady, the clique who has had hold of it being afraid to advance prices. In consequence of the tariff agitation this was not so last year where in one instance inside of 30 days they went prices up over 3c. per pound.

Coffee A. Standard, 6½c. Coffee O. Extra Yellow, 6c.

Granulated, Crushed and Powdered, 7c.

The Tea market in second grades has been much higher; those qualities have advanced over 5c. In the first qualities there has been no change; fortunately we had a large supply before the advance which enabled us to continue to sell to our customers at old prices. Our motto in dealing in Teas, like other goods, is to buy in large quantities and we sell direct to the consumer, thereby saving to our customers the profits of the jobber and speculator, which is not less than 10 and 15 c. on the pound. This is the secret in the success of our Tea trade trade—large sales and small profits.

Young Hyson Tea, good, 20c.; choice, 30c.; best, 50c. lb.
Imperial Tea, extra, 30c; best, 60c lb.

COFFEE, COFFEE—Rio, Mocha, Java and Roasted Coffee.

There are indications of a great decline in coffee the next two months as receipts in Rio and Santos are very large, and this being shipped to New York will compel the clique who has had hold of the market to let go, and in consequence the market will go down. Prices remain as last quoted:

Best Rio Coffee, 23c. lb. Choice Old Govt. Java, 28c. lb.
Best Green Mocha, 30c. lb. Best Roasted Rio, 25c. lb.
Best Roasted Java, 33c. lb. Best Roasted Mocha, 35c. lb.

DEATH OF JOHN HARPER.

An Old Resident Passes Away—Death of Julius Manth.

Last evening at 9:20 o'clock occurred the death of John Harper, Esq., an old and respected resident. For many weeks Mr. Harper had been ill at his home, 365 West Main street and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was one of the pioneers of Aboite township, but he lived in this city since last April. The surviving members of the family are James B. and Benjamin F. Harper, the attorneys, and three other children grown up.

John Harper was born in Franklin county, Pa., near Chambersburg, November 16, 1817. He is the son of William and Rachel (Daley) Harper, natives of Pennsylvania. The father, whose occupation was farming and shoemaking, died February 7, 1848. Mr. Harper was educated in the common schools and worked with his father until twenty-one years of age. Then buying a small tract of land, he engaged in farming, and seven years later, in 1848, moved to Allen county, Ind. He purchased 200 acres of land, and settled in the woods to develop his present fine farm. He was married April 28, 1842, to Lizzie Byall, daughter of James Byall, a native of Maryland, who served in the war of 1812, and died in Ohio in 1855. Mr. and Mrs. Harper have had eight children, five of whom are living: Isaiah W., James B., Benjamin F., Eliza and Victoria. Isaiah is a farmer and resides near the old homestead. James B. is a prominent attorney and Benjamin F. is in the same profession in Fort Wayne. Eliza is a clerk in the pension office at Washington, D. C. Politically Mr. Harper was a Republican. He cast his first vote for William Henry Harrison in 1840.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon from the house.

The funeral will take place Sunday at 1:30 p. m. from the house and at 2 o'clock from the church.

FIREMEN'S FLAMES.

The Fire Fiend Visits the Doctor's Residence.

Last evening fire was discovered in the handsome brick residence of Dr. Wm. T. Ferguson, No. 82 West Berry street. The flames first made their appearance in the basement and undoubtedly originated from a defective flue. Speedily the spacious rooms were filled with flames and in spite of the efforts of the fire department, a loss of $1,000 was sustained. The damage is to the furniture, library and the other articles. The residence proper escaped with slight loss. Dr. Ferguson carried $900 insurance.

A device has been submitted to the British admiralty by which, it is said, the largest battle ship in the service can, in four minutes, be protected from the attack of any number of torpedoes, no matter how skillfully they may be directed.

The two sides of the human face are not exactly alike, and a German biologist asserts that the lack of symmetry, as arule, is confined to the upper part of the face; in two cases out of five the eyes are out of line, and seven persons out of every ten have stronger sight in one eye than in the other; another singular fact is that the right ear is almost invariably higher than the left.

Congress has passed an appropriation of $350,000 for the purchase of the Portage Lake and River Improvement Co.'s canal and the Lake Superior Ship Canal Railway and Iron Co.'s canal. These works connect Portage Lake with Lake Superior, and will now be made free from tolls. The copper-mining industries will be greatly benefited by this action of Congress.

The following populations make an interesting comparison: Russian Empire, 113,854,649; United States, 62,480,540; Germany, 46,852,450; Anstria-Hungary, 40,464,808; France, 38,218,908; Great Britain and Ireland, 35,241,638; Italy, 28,460,000; Spain, 17,550,246. It is only a question of time when we shall lead even Russia, and with our increase will be the leadership of the English-speaking civilization.

There were in the United Kingdom, at the end of June last, according to a recent return, 10,034 engines, or 96 per cent., and 61,798 passenger vehicles, or 96 per cent. of the total, fitted with continuous brakes, which comply, or partly comply, with the Board of Trade requirements. As compared with the returns of June, 1889, there is an increase of one in the percentage of engines, and of four in that of the carriages thus fitted.

Probably the smallest and most unique postoffice in the world is a barrel which swings from the outermost rock of the mountains overhanging the Straits of Magellan, opposite Terra del Fuego. Every passing ship opens it to place letters in it or take letters out. Every ship understakes to forward all letters in it that it is possible for it to transmit. The barrel hangs by its iron chain, beaten and battered by the winds and storms, but no locked or barredoffice on land is more secure.

The Fort Wayne Electric club held an elegant smoker last evening at the club hall. Here an elegant luncheon was served in courses. At its close Mr. M. M. M. Slattery, the toastmaster, made a very happy address.

One of the ways of stimulating invention which is well worthy of trial is offering standing rewards for those who at any time make discoveries of great advantage to human progress. Our patent laws do this indirectly by giving to the inventor exclusive control of his discoveries for a term of years. But these laws do not always protect those who most need protection, and are often used for the term of the patent in the most oppressive manner. It is a common trick of patentees to make no complaints when their inventions are made and sold by outsiders, but to prosecute vigorously those in whose hands their inventions are afterwards found. In this way thousands of dollars were extorted from farmers for driven-well patents, until the highest courts decided that this patent was invalid. Laws should be made protecting those who innocently use patented ideas, as articles containing these are sold to them. It would also probably be well to at least try to purchase some of the more valuable patents from their inventors for a round sum, for the purpose of making a present of them to the public for the public good.

Anarchy and its loud-mouthed, long-haired devotees, are dying a slow, sure death. This is a poor country for the red flag. It will never thrive on American soil, and some of these fine days it will wither up like an autumn leaf and float back to Poland and the land of the Czar. Each year these queer revolutionists lift themselves upon their European legs and celebrate the hanging of the Chicago Haymarket bomb-throwers. Sometimes they put flowers on their "martyrs'" graves and sometimes they do not, as suits their often not overly plethoric purses. However, they never omit threatening dire vengeance on the Government for "murdering" their patron saints and say perfectly dreadful things about the American people. It is to be noted, though, that there is no more dynamite work since that wholesome hanging lesson. As long as they take it out in talk and content themselves with ventilating their windy lungs nobody need care much. Let's be amused at them awhile and see how soon they get tired of it.

It is a strange coincidence that exactly 100 years ago young girls in London were in constant terror of meeting the "Jack the Ripper" of that day. He attacked and wounded several ladies in several parts of the town, cutting their garments and gashing them in the body with a sharp-pointed instrument, although he never went as far as murder. In April, 1790, a large reward was offered for the apprehension of "the Monster," as he was popularly called.

Can any other institution in the world show such a stewardship like this?

All good men—sharp, shrewd business men—Men who love their families and not themselves, insure their lives to make provision for their families and their own more advanced age. The Mutual life issues every desirable form of policy. Its new distribution policy is the most liberal ever offered by any Insurance Co. in the world, and is the most profitable. It will pay investors to look into the 4 per cent. Guarantee Bonds, now being issued by this Company.
